DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed 7/19/05 is acknowledged. Claims 2-17, 19-30 and 39-46 are being considered on the merits.

Claims 2-17, 19-30 and 40-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being based upon new matter added to the patent for which reissue is sought. The added material which is not supported by the prior patent is as follows:

In the prior patent, no basis or support is found for the compound recited in claims 15-16, 40 wherein the substituents are P containing ring compounds.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 2-17, 23-30 and 40-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 40 is incomplete in lacking punctuation at the end of the claim.

Claim 23-30 are incomplete as depending on a cancelled claim.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 1651

Claims 1-30 and 39 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 2-11 of U.S. Patent No. 5,663,209; and claims 24-32, 34-37 and 40-43 of U.S. Patent No. 6,777,444.

An obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but an examined application claim not is patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because at least claim 1 is generic to all that is recited in claims 2-11 U.S. Patent No. 5,663,209, respectively, claims 24-32, 34-37 and 40-43 of U.S. Patent No. 6,777,444.

Claims 1-30 and 39 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5, 7, and 12-14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,214,874 and claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,417,234 each in view of Shantha (U.S. Patent No. 5,195,965).

An obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but an examined application claim not is patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are directed to substantially the same method of suppressing the growth of a virus using the same composition(s). A method of suppressing the growth of a human papilloma virus (HPV) or inhibiting replication of HPV in an HPV-induced tumor with substantially the same compounds as herein would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention in view of the invention claimed in each of the cited patents because of the teachings of Shantha et al. which adequately demonstrate that HPV is involved in the pathology of tumors at least in the cervix and also in cervical cancer. Therefore suppression of viral growth for the purpose of treating virally induced tumors wherein viral particles are growing and replicating would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made.

Therefore, the claims in the conflicting applications render the instant method of suppressing the growth of a virus using nordihydroguaiaretic acid derivatives obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Therefore the claims are co-extensive.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

Applicant's indicate that the rejection should be kept in abeyance. In the absence of a proper terminal disclaimer, the rejection is maintained.

The claims are free of the art of record.

No claim is allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
